ORGANISATION OF THE FIRST TOWNTOLOGY CONFERENCE

Progress

John Lee received 27 proposals for papers. We will propose an extension date for the article reception. It is not required to have sent an abstract to submit a paper.

Springer proposed to publish the conference proceedings in the Series the Studies in Computational Intelligence. The scientific editor contract of Springer should be sent at the end of next weeks. The proceedings will contain 25 papers of 10 to 15 pages. It will leave some place for invited key speakers' presentation. Springer needs 3 months to print the proceedings. No authors will have to pay for the proceedings.

A rough printing of all articles during the conference or the articles can be available from a web page. Springer should be consulted in order to see whether they accept that we put articles on a web page or print them.

A. Gomez Perez will be replaced by Oscar Corcho in Manchester. J Teller will contact Kuhn and AFCD will contact Gruninger. Robert Laurini accepts to be a key speaker in order to make an introductory presentation.

Reviewing process

A Wiki page will be established in order to start the reviewing process. In this page each participant will chose 2 papers for reviewing. The reviewing process will focus on the subject of the papers: information technology, quality and originality. Kostas Karatzas will send information about other workshops to redirect no scope articles. Evaluation will be made in order to select 15 or 20 papers.

New reviewing process schedule

Full paper received end of May.

Review end of June.

JT will ask to extend the deadline to the mid of June.

One month after the conference each author will have to send their full paper.

Send final version for Springer proceedings end of November.
